Andrew B. Weinstein Joins Health Advocate as Controller

Plymouth Meeting, PA: June 8, 2006. Health Advocate, Inc., the nation's leading health advocacy and assistance company, is pleased to announce that Andrew B. Weinstein has joined the company as Vice President and Controller. He is responsible for corporate controller functions and corporate financial planning and analysis.

Weinstein most recently served as Chief Financial Officer/Controller for Service Plus Distributors, Inc. and later served as General Manager/Controller for SPD Division of Barnes Group, where he was responsible for the daily management of all departments, including accounting, warehouse, customer service and sales.

"Andy brings to Health Advocate great talent and skills both in finance and business leadership," said Thomas A. Masci, Jr., Chief Financial Officer, Health Advocate, Inc. "His background and abilities will help us further strengthen the management of our financial team as we continue to grow and expand."

Prior to joining Service Plus Distributors, Inc. in 1994, Weinstein served as a forensic accountant and economic analyst for Barach & Company and supervising senior accountant for KPMG Peat Marwick.

"I am delighted to become part of such a dynamic and service oriented organization like Health Advocate that is dedicated to helping employers and their employees save time and money and achieve better healthcare outcomes," said Weinstein.

Weinstein received his bachelor's in accounting from Penn State University. He is a Certified Public Accountant and a member of the AICPA and PICPA.
