Costco, a corporation that holds the largest number of members for its warehouse club all over the U.S. and is also the ninth largest all across the globe, also offers Costco insurance.

Costco Insurance Agency, Inc. offers auto, home, and health insurance. These Costco insurance policies offer special discounts and privileges for its wholesale club members like for its auto insurance, members can get a discount of close to $500 from the premium payment, it has a claims service and roadside assistance that is available to respond 24/7, and any car repairs can be done in any accredited car shop of the insurer's choice. The coverage is comprehensive and car insurance policy holders can personally choose which options they would want included before paying for their policies.

Costco insurance for house and condo owners also includes benefits like assistance for home lockout, protection from identity theft, and reimbursement for any home glass repair. Costco's auto and home insurance are provided by Ameriprise Insurance, a company that has been in the insurance business for over twenty years, and which has also been given a rating of A or excellent for its stability and performance.

Costco also offer personal and business health insurance. For its business health insurance, Costco has formed partnerships with the top insurance companies to provide policies for businesses across the U.S. It has brokered special rates exclusively for its members, and some of the features include online enrollment and billing, sales and service that are available 24/7, and even options to add in dental or life insurance.

Costco's personal health insurance policies are covered by Aetna, a company which has received several recognitions and awards over the years. Among some of its recent awards are, in 2010, it was awarded the International Benefits Provider of the Year; and this year, it has been given the "Award for Innovation in Reducing Health Care Disparities". Members are given five policy options to choose from depending on the annual deductible that they want.

And as an added benefit to help and guide its members about any insurance questions and concerns, Costco has contracted Health Advocate, Inc. which offers assistance like recommending the best doctor or hospital, answers queries about procedures and medications, etc.

Costco Insurance Agency, Inc. offers the best combination of value and quality insurance coverage specifically for its members.
